

CIA Branch Has Retrieved 9 'Non-Human Craft' UFOs and Debris, Sources Claim

Story by David Wetzel • 30-Nov-2023

Evidence is mounting that suggests the United States — and perhaps other countries like China and Russia — have been retrieving UFOs and pieces of unidentified crafts for decades.

A secretive branch of the CIA — the Office of Global Access (OGA) — has retrieved nine apparent "non-human craft" for in decades of retrieval missions, Knewz.com has learned.

The most famous alleged UFO crash took place in Roswell, New Mexico in 1947. By: MEGA

The Daily Mail, citing anonymous sources, reported that the agency has retrieved seven crashed UFOs and two others that are completely intact.

The allegations match up with what David Grusch, a UFO whistleblower who previously served as a United States Air Force intelligence officer, told Joe Rogan during a recent podcast, as Knewz.com previously reported.

Grusch made the claim that the United States, China and Russia have been in the midst of a UFO arms race for nearly a century.

Three sources who spoke to The Daily Mail said the OGA, a wing of the Central Intelligence Agency's Science and Technology Directorate, had been at the center of retrieving crash debris since 2003.

The CIA's Office of Global Access allegedly retrieves UFO debris. By: MEGA

The claims by the sources — who say they were briefed by people involved in the UFO retrieval projects — echo what Grusch told Congress in a much-anticipated public hearing in July.

Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer followed up the meeting by sponsoring a bill to allow disclosure of "recovered technologies of unknown origin and biological evidence of non-human intelligence" — which later passed in the Senate.

However, claims from The Daily Mail's sources appear to allege that such retrievals have not been disclosed publicly.

The U.S. government has recently been more forthcoming with information about UFO sightings. By: MEGA

"There's at least nine vehicles. There were different circumstances for different ones," one of the sources said. "It has to do with the physical condition they're in. If it crashes, there's a lot of damage done. Others, two of them, are completely intact."

One source told The Daily Mail that the CIA has a "system in place that can discern UFOs while they're still cloaked" and that special military units are deployed to recover any debris or crafts that are found.

Another source said the special military personnel specialize in retrieving debris that lands in places in which the U.S. usually does not have access — such as behind enemy lines.

"They are basically a facilitator for people to get in and out of countries," the source said. "They are very clever at being able to get anywhere in the world they want to."

David Grusch says the United States, China and Russia are engaging in a UFO arms race. By: MEGA

While the OGA typically focuses on more conventional retrieval missions, such as finding stray nuclear weapons, downed satellites or adversaries' technology, UFOs are part of the agency's agenda.

"The task at hand is simply to get it into custody and protect the secrecy of it," one source said. "The actual physical retrieval is by the military. But it's not kept under military control, because they have to keep too many records. So, they start moving it out fairly quickly into private hands."

Grusch told Rogan that as far back as 1933 major countries have been engaging in a UFO arms race, citing a crash in Italy that year.

"Pope Pius XII and the Vatican were involved," he said, "back channeling it through the OSS which became the CIA, and later to [then-president Franklin D. Roosevelt] and that's how the U.S. knew something weird happened."

UFOs have been a subject of debate for a long time. By: MEGA

That alleged crash predates the famous Roswell crash in New Mexico, where some believe parts of a UFO were recovered. Conspiracy theorists have gone so far as to theorize that aliens were rescued from the site and taken to military bases for testing.

The new UFO claims come at a time when more people are coming forward following the July Congressional hearing.

As Knewz.com previously reported, Jeff Nuccetelli, a former United States Air Force patrolman, spoke on the "Merged" podcast about an encounter he allegedly had in October 2023.

"I'm getting ready to jump in the car," Nuccetelli told Merged host, retired U.S. Navy fighter pilot Lt. Ryan Graves, "and then all hell breaks loose, and they start screaming over the radio, 'It's coming right at us. It's coming right for us. Now it's right here.'"

"It was hard to hear," the former USAF patrol officer said, "because they were screaming, and they were scared."

SOURCE: <https://www.msn.com/en-us/news/world/cia-branch-has-retrieved-9-non-human-craft-ufos-and-debris-sources-claim/ar-AA1kGZqk>